Sargent Combination Plane, Nos 1080 and 1085

On the first (or "cover") page, near the bottom, of the Sargent Combination Plane manual is "6.43", suggesting that the manual was printed in 1943. (The paper is quite fragile, which suggests to me that this date "is not out of line".

Looking for the word string, "Sargent combination plane" in Newspaperarchive.com yields only two hits worth bothering about.

Both (reproduced below) are from the Oakland Tribune, The larger image -- advertising the combo plane at $17.95 – is from 1948.

Four years later, in 1952, is another ad for the combo plane, in the same Oakland Tribune, but this time, the price is $33.00, but on sale at $23.95.

(While I was young at the time, I do remember that – when W W II ended in 1945 -- inflation was fierce, after the war-time price controls were removed.)

What follows is a pdf of my copy of the 1943(?) manual for the Sargent Combination Pane, Nos 1080 and 1085.

Enjoy!
